

Suffolk Celebrates ADA

Charlie Hammerman, president and CEO of the Disability Opportunity Fund (DOF), left, and Martin Cantor, director of the Long Island Center for Socio-Economic Policy present the results of an Economic Impact study that reported on "Maintaining the Strength of Long Island Agencies Assisting Long Islanders with Disabilities."

Suffolk County Exec. Steven Bellone and the Suffolk Office for People with Disabilities represented by Dir. Frank Krotschinky along with the DOF celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Americans with Disabilities Act with a program that also included a panel discussion about ABLER Act Accounts presented by Hammerman with Peter Klein, partner with High Tower Advisors and Janet Koch, executive director of Life's WORC.

Bellone welcomed attendees with the keynote speech and a networking session followed the event.
